HELD IN SENATE CHAMBER

Remains Taken to Atlanta and Will Lie in State in Georgia
Capitol To-Day.

Washington, February 17.—Final tribute to the late Senator Augustus O. Bacon, of Georgia, was paid to-day by the representatives in Washington of the American people and foreign nations. Funeral services were held in the Senate chamber, as an unusual honor to the dead statesman. Joining the houses of Congress in the tribute were the Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the President's Cabinet, the diplomatic corps, officers of the army and navy, and others high in official life.

Solemn and impressive as the services were, they were brief, and within thirty minutes after Vice-President Marshall opened the ceremonies the Senate adjourned as a further mark of respect. Then the body was borne away and placed on a train for Atlanta, where tomorrow it will lie in state in the Georgia Capitol. On the train were members of special Senate and House committees and the sergeant-at-arms and the secretary of the Senate.

It was an impressive assembly that gathered in the Senate chamber for the funeral. The bright uniforms of the members of the diplomatic corps were missing, the only touch of color in the chamber being the uniforms of General Wood, of the army, and Rear Admiral Vreeland, of the navy. Sombre funeral garb marked the appearance of all the others present on the floor.

President Unable to Attend.
President Wilson could not go to the funeral because of the risk of exposure after his recent bad cold, but Mrs. Wilson and some of the family occupied places in the gallery. A large wreath bearing the words of the President and Mrs. Wilson was placed on the casket, the only floral tribute in the chamber besides one from the Senate.

The ceremonies were marked by simplicity. There were no eulogies—only prayer and funeral services by the Senate chaplain and Bishop Harding, of the Episcopal Church.

The coffin in the marble room, from which the general public was excluded, was a guard of honor, composed of a veteran of the Union and of the Confederate armies. The Confederate veteran was J. B. Marshall, of Birmingham, Ala., and the Union soldier was Major James A. Abbot, of Providence, R. I. Both are members of the Capitol Police.

W. T. Roberts and John T. Duncan, of Douglasville, Ga., two veterans of the Forty-second Georgia, Senator Bacon's old regiment, came to attend the funeral. The returned on the train that carries the Senator's body to Atlanta.

Members of Family.
To the left of the casket immediately in front of the Vice-President's desk, sat the members of the family of Senator Bacon, his daughter, Mrs. Willis B. Sparks; his grandson, Augustus O. Bacon, Jr.; his granddaughters, Mrs. Louise Curry, with them were Judge and Mrs. William B. Lamar, of Florida.

General Dewey was not present, but was represented by Rear Admiral Vreeland.

Members of the Cabinet who attended were Secretaries Bryan, McReynolds, Garrison, Daniels, Lane, Redfield and Wilson.

The services were completed at 1:30 o'clock. The body was borne back to the Marble Room, where it remained until escorted to the railway station for the journey to Atlanta, headed by the funeral party that accompanied the body South. Included were Senators Smith, of Georgia; Tillman, Chilton, Fletcher, Connors, Thomas, O'Gorman, Vandaman, Gallinger, Root, Nelson, Brandegee and Page; Representatives Ferris, Willis, Mann, Payne, Gardner, Anthony, Dyer and Proctor, and the Georgia delegation, including Representatives Edwards, Park, Crisp, Adams, Howard, Bartlett, Lee, Tribble, Bell, Hardwick, Walker and Hughes.

He Will Lie in State.
Atlanta, Ga., February 17.—Details to-day were completed in the final arrangements for the reception here tomorrow of the body of the late Senator A. O. Bacon, which will lie in state at the Capitol for a few hours to-morrow.

Members of the funeral party will be met at the railway station by members of Governor John M. Slaton's staff and escorted to the Capitol, where they will be received by the Governor. The body of the dead Senator, after being taken from the train, will be placed in the waiting hearse, and, attended by a special guard of honor of Confederate veterans, escorted to the Capitol where it will lie in state in the rotunda.

Six soldiers of the Seventeenth United States Infantry will act as pallbearers, and the Seventeenth Infantry, cadets from several military academies, and a regiment of the Georgia National Guard will form the funeral cortege to the Capitol.

The body of the dead Senator, headed by the Seventeenth Infantry, band, will be placed on board the funeral train

Listen to this report of a local fireman on the Shenandoah Division of the Norfolk and Western Railway: Mr. J. D. Jervis, only 23 years of age, has had catarrh of the head, stomach and kidneys for three years. Catarrh of the head kept him hawking and spitting out nasty mucus. His breath was foul, sometimes his nose was stopped up, smarting and burning. Finally his stomach became affected. The food would sour and ferment, which caused gases to form. Four mouthfuls would belch up. Sometimes dizziness and shortness of breath would follow, as most railroad men are afflicted with kidney trouble, and especially when they have catarrh. He, too, had kidney trouble to some extent. But the worst of all came when he was

"DINNER DANSANT"

Home of Judge Gregory Scene of Important Social Event.

The "Dinner Dansant" given on Monday evening by Miss Imogene Gregory, daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. M. Gregory, of Forest Hill, in honor of Miss Eleanor M. Williams, of Wytheville, Va., was an important social event. Decorated with palms and red carnations, the entire lower floor was thrown open for dancing. Mrs. John Cullen Robertson presided at the punch bowl. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Robertson assisted Judge and Mrs. Gregory in receiving. Mrs. Gregory was crowned in black crepe de chine, and wore orchids. Miss Imogene Gregory wore a gown of lavender chiffon over silk crepe de chine, carrying lilacs of the valley. Miss Williams was dressed in white lace and carried American Beauties.

Those dancing were: Miss Eleanor M. Williams, with Thelwell Gregory; Miss Imogene Gregory, with Colonel W. W. LaPrade; Miss Ellen Marshall Smith, with Minor Tompkins; Miss Evelyn Byrd Warwick, with S. Littlepage Ingram; Miss Elizabeth Tompkins, with Benjamin Weisker; Miss Annie Bolling Ingram, with Robert W. Wilson; Miss Anna Page Williams, with Rodrick Mayhew; Miss Eleanor Lewis Gary, with Francis H. French; Miss Janie Holmes Robertson, with Charles Gregory; Mrs. Lyle French Gary, with Dr. Herbert Neblett; Stags: Brodnax Robertson, Richard H. Smith.

Open New Station.
A new post-office substitution has been opened in the store of Miss Mattie E. and taken to Macon, Senator Bacon's former home, where the burial services will be held on Thursday.

Redfield Now a "Duke."
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, February 17.—The King of the New Orleans Mardi Gras has conferred upon William Cox Redfield, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the title of "Duke." Mr. Redfield received a jeweled badge of office to-day as large as washboard, with a leather strap, and a parchment scroll, elevating him to office.

ASKS FOR CHARGES AGAINST POLICE
Board of Control of Norfolk Takes Hand in Investigation of Department.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., February 17.—The Board of Control to-day after weeks of silence took action in the investigation concerning the police department. Harvey M. Dickson, chairman of the police committee, who made the charges, preferred the complaint to Police Captain Ford by the Railway Clerks Association, accusing the officer of attempting to learn what transpired in their meeting-room, to-day requested Chairman Dickson of the board to take the matter into his hands, and to have the charges investigated with a stenographic copy of the testimony given by the police, and a J. P. Powell, a white man.

The latter testified that he saw a fourteen-year-old white girl being forcibly taken into the home of a questionable character, that he appealed to the police, but was told he taken down with the grip. The aches and pains, as almost every person who has experienced knows, is to suffer the torture, but the after effects are really worse than the disease itself, and that was the condition Mr. Jervis was in. He couldn't eat, couldn't sleep, was weak and all rundown; would try to work, but one trip of two days, and he would have to lay up for a week, although darning and dosing all the time. Nothing seemed to reach his case until he called at Humphries & Webber's drug store and had a talk about wonderful Quaker Herb Extract and Oil of Balm. After hearing about the thousands of people who have been cured of catarrh, in every form, stomach trouble, indigestion, and how it was the best medicine in the world to purify the blood and to build up weak, run-down systems, and especially after stages of the grip, he decided to buy the small or three-bottle

Wood, at Seventh and Perry Street. Stamps, money orders and parcel post business will be handled for the convenience of patrons. Application has also been made for a substitution in Swansboro.

A mail delivery service is expected to be started in Forest Hill this spring. The application was made nearly a year ago.

Lodge Observes Anniversary.
In celebration of its twenty-sixth anniversary, Liberty Council, Junior Order, United American Mechanics, held a meeting last night in Robben's Hall, Swansboro. Many State officers were present, and they congratulated the lodge on its excellent showing. A musical program was rendered and refreshments served.

Negroes Get Term.
Joseph Jones and Will Coleman, colored, were found guilty yesterday in Hustings Court, Part II, on the charge of assaulting and cutting John F. Webb and sentenced by Judge Ernest H. Wells to eighteen months in the penitentiary. The negroes pleaded guilty in Police Court, but claimed self-defense. They were represented by Attorney George Paul.

Henry Boone, colored, was fined $10 for cutting Floyd Jefferson, the felony charge not being sustained.

Sam Jones, colored, charged with arson, was dismissed. He was alleged to have set fire to the W. B. Davis brickyard.

Skating at Forest Hill.
By sweeping of the snow, many persons have been able to skate on the Forest Hill lake this week. Although somewhat rough, the surface is frozen firmly. The low hills of the park are excellent for sleigh-riding.

He would have to secure a warrant. Detective Stephenson corroborated Powell's testimony. He said he knew of him for his police services to act because officials above him would not order the place raided.

Perry said he is now working for the police department, and has been for some time. He said he knew of him for his police services to act because officials above him would not order the place raided.

When his game was closed down, Perry said he was on the payroll now and would get paid. Two weeks went by and he did not get paid, so he went to Police Captain Mayo. He got no satisfaction from Captain Mayo, so he went to headquarters to see Chief Kizer. He said that the chief told him he couldn't afford to be put in a position where it could be said that the chief had paid him any money, and sent him back to Mayo. This time Captain Mayo gave him $12.50.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Walter C. Hill, Hurt in Auto Accident, Reported to Be Some Better.
The condition of Walter C. Hill, of 2315 a taxicab in which he was badly hurt when he was hit by a Laurel Street car at Laurel and Grace streets, is somewhat improved. Mr. Hill was taken to the hospital after the accident, and it was found that he had sustained a fracture of the skull. He was returning to his home at Raymond Hill, where he was with his son, Raymond, and two occupants were thrown out. The father was killed, and the son was injured. The taxicab driver, who was the owner of the Virginia Taxicab Company, was also slightly hurt.

IN SHARP DEBATEAcrimonious Words Between Democrat and Republican on Investigation Committee.

NO LIMIT PUT TO EVIDENCE

Hearsay Testimony by Striking Miners Admitted on Chair-man's Ruling.

Hancock, Mich., February 17.—Chairman Taylor, a Democrat, to-day refused to entertain the motion of Representative Switzer, a Republican, that hearsay testimony presented by striking miners regarding alleged violations of constitutional rights of citizens be expunged from the record. Debate on the question grew acrimonious. Mr. Taylor charged that Mr. Switzer was attempting to discredit the work of the committee by taking the position that it had no authority to make a full investigation.

"You can object as much as you please," Mr. Taylor exclaimed, "but if you object to an investigation of the conditions here, you ought not to be on this committee."

Mr. Switzer denied he objected to an investigation, but he insisted that a limit should be fixed, so that everything offered would not be admitted into the record.

"As chairman of this committee, representing the Democratic majority in the House," Mr. Taylor said, "I will say that anything that goes into the record will go back to Congress. We were sent here to investigate conditions, with a view of providing remedial legislation, and if we cut out anything that might throw light on the situation, we would be severely criticized."

"Do I understand you to say that this is a partisan committee, and that this is a partisan investigation?" inquired Representative Howell, the other Republican member.

Investigation Not Partisan.
"No," the chairman replied, "but when a minority member tries to discredit the committee by saying it is exceeding its proper limits, it is time for the majority to take decisive action."

Mr. Howell said the experience of centuries had shown that the rules of evidence afford the best means of conducting an investigation of this character.

"Mr. Switzer has a right to ask to have anything stricken out," Mr. Taylor said, "and his objection will be because I ask it," Mr. Switzer asked.

"No," was the reply.

The discussion arose while Walno Wyrenko, a striker, was giving testimony in a room in which members of "Citizens' Alliance" were watching the posse, raided the Western Federation of Miners' headquarters at South Tange, following the shooting of a coal miner, who had been searching for them. The miner had said he was beaten by a man, described by others as a deputy sheriff. Mr. Switzer asked that this testimony be stricken out because the witness personally did not know his assailant was a deputy.

Allan P. Reese, a mining company attorney, said assaults and violations of person and property were in the province of the States and that the Federal authorities had no jurisdiction.

"Do you think if we find that for a period of six months," Mr. Taylor asked, "a coal miner has existed here and we discover that he has been a violation of individual rights, we cannot report it to Congress?"

Mr. Reese replied, "if there has been a violation of rights, the Constitution or Federal statutes."

Rights of Committee.
Mr. Howell remarked that counsel sought to agree that the committee had authority to investigate the industrial situation here, and he asked if it was not important to Congress to know something about the administration of justice.

Mr. Reese said he was not prepared to argue the point, but he thought Congress should be informed on this subject through the Federal courts.

Bijou Should Do Big Business.
In "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," the management of the Grayce Scott company has chosen a play which, in general appearance at least, resembles "When Knighthood Was in Flower," and for that reason will probably be more than acceptable to the clientele of the Bijou.

Without going into the merits of the dramatization of Charles Major's erstwhile best-seller, which is unnecessary and would be unkind, it is sufficient to say that the play is presumed to depict a romantic affair of Queen Elizabeth's day, and therefore gives the company an opportunity to appear in the best costume of that period, to Mr. Berthelet an outlet for his admirable taste in colorful settings, and to Miss Scott a part of the same tempestuous, wilful and winning quality as that of Mary Tudor in "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Recognized everywhere and by experts as the very highest grade of baking powder—superior to other brands in purity, leavening strength and keeping quality.

Made from pure cream of tartar, the product of grapes, and the most healthful and useful of leavening agents.

Its use insures the bread, biscuit and cake against contamination from the cheap, improper or injurious ingredients from which lower priced baking powders may be made.

Madge Caldwell, the Nadina of the east, was also suffering during the performances of Monday night and Tuesday afternoon, and though she, too, went through both, she became too ill last night to go on, and at a few minutes' notice Emily Ziegler, who has understudied the role for several years, but had not sung it for more than a year, took her place.

Though somewhat nervous, singing very well indeed; was recalled three times after the "My Hero" song, and scored a decided hit.

PROTEST AGAINST

Committee of Norfolk Business Men Want Privilege in Optional Charter Act.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., February 17.—Seven of the forty-two directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day entered a vigorous protest against Senator Lesner's proposal to eliminate Norfolk from the privilege conferred on the city by the State to permit a move to secure legislation that would permit the Norfolk city water department to sell water outside of the city limits.

A committee, composed of H. L. Lowenberg, John E. Burke, Harvey L. Wilson, and J. H. Coker, was appointed to do everything in its power to have Norfolk retained as one of the beneficiaries of the bill.

JOSEPH A. WADDELL
DIES IN STAUNTON

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Staunton, Va., February 17.—Joseph Addison Waddell, A. M., LL. D., died this afternoon at his home in Staunton. He was educated at Washington College, now Washington and Lee University, and for a number of years had owned and operated with a cousin the Spectator. Later, for twenty-five years he was clerk of the Supreme Court of Appeals. He was a member of the Underwood Constitutional Convention in 1868, and helped to prevent the entire submergence of the civilization of the State by the so-called "black and tan" element, and later served several terms in the Senate. He was the author of "The Annals of Augusta County," and of many articles on historical subjects.

Mr. Waddell was the grandson of the late John Waddell, who was a member of the Virginia House of Burgesses.
